

THE UNIVERSITY of ADELAIDE

Food South Australia Prize

This Prize has been established by the University in partnership with Food South Australia, which is the state's peak industry body representing the food and beverage manufacturing companies based in South Australia.

Food South Australia is keen to support graduates from the Food & Nutrition Science Program of the University by offering the Food South Australia Prize.

Prize recipients

Year	Winner
2017	Mitchell John Crisp

Prize rule

Value

Prize package.

Eligibility

The Prize will be awarded annually. To be eligible for the Prize, candidates must have successfully completed the Food & Nutrition Science Industry Placement course at the University of Adelaide in the year prior to the Prize being awarded.

Candidate Selection

The Program Management Committee, Industry Placement Course Coordinators and a representative from Food South Australia shall award the Prize to the candidate who is deemed by the Committee to be the best student who successfully completed the Food & Nutrition Science Industry Placement course taking into account academic merit and other qualities.

If there is no candidate of sufficient merit in a given year then the Prize Package will not be awarded in that year.

Variations

The University may vary the rules from time to time in a manner consistent with the University's legal obligations and policies.

Last Updated 5/12/2018